

Contents

Foreword	ix
Preface	xiii
1. The Battering Problem	1
Defining Batterers	4
Characteristics of Batterers	6
Misconceptions About Batterers	22
Summary	32
2. Power Parenting: The Batterer's Style With Children	33
Typical Characteristics of Batterers as Parents	33
Effects on Children of Exposure to Domestic Violence	42
Child Abuse	54
The Batterer as Role Model	60
Children's Outlook on the Batterer	66
Summary	67
3. Shock Waves: The Batterer's Impact on the Home	69
Undermining of the Mother's Authority	72
Effects on Mother-Child Relationships	80
Use of Children as Weapons Against the Mother	92
The Batterer's Impact on Other Aspects of Family Functioning	98
Resilience in Mother-Child and in Sibling Relationships	103
Summary	105
4. The Batterer as Incest Perpetrator	107
Lundy Bancroft and Margaret Miller
Review of Studies	107
The Predatory Child Molester Versus the Incest Perpetrator	110

Shared Tactics of Batterers and Incest Perpetrators	112
Shared Attitudes of Batterers and Incest Perpetrators	115
Implications of the Overlap for Professional Response	118
Sexual Abuse Allegations in Custody and Visitation Disputes	119
Summary	122
5. Impeding Recovery: The Batterer as Parent Postseparation	123
Creating a Context for Children's Healing	128
Batterers' Postseparation Conduct With Children	131
Batterers' Motivations for Seeking Custody or Increased Visitation	140
Batterers' Advantages in Custody Disputes	142
Batterers' Tactics in Custody and Visitation Disputes	154
Effects on Children of Custody Litigation	161
Summary	161
6. The Mismeasure of Batterers as Parents: A Critique of Prevailing Theories of Assessment	163
Influential Theories of Divorce	164
The Use of a Domestic Violence Typology to Assess Risk to Children	177
The Overlooked Implications of Johnston, Campbell, and Roseby's Own Observations	185
Summary	187
7. Supporting Recovery: Assessing Risk to Children From Batterers and Structuring Visitation	189
Sources of Risk to Children From Unsupervised Contact With Batterers	192
A Guide to Assessing Risk to Children From Batterers	198
Structuring Custody and Visitation	214
Summary	221
8. Is It Real? Assessing and Fostering Change in Batterers as Parents	223
Steps to Change in Batterers	225
Misconceptions Regarding Change in Batterers	228
Evaluating Change in Batterers as Parents	229
Creating a Context for Change	231
Summary	233

9. Improving Community Responses to the Parenting of Batterers	235
Child Advocates, Child and Family Therapists, and Programs for Children Exposed to Domestic Violence	239
Custody Evaluators	250
Family Courts	255
Child Protection Systems and Courts With Protective Jurisdiction	261
Parent Trainers	265
Psychological Evaluators	267
Batterer Programs and Fatherhood Programs	268
Battered Women’s Programs	270
Supervised Visitation Centers	271
Family Lawyers and Bar Associations	272
Police Departments	273
Researchers	273
Summary	276
References	277
Index	309
About the Authors	325