

THREE

Possible answer

Concurrent:

Collect survey, interview, observational and medical/social case history data (within a limited time span) from a number of sites (both hostel and street locations). Analyse, compare and contrast results.

Sequential

Collect the following data sets sequentially over time allowing the results of one set to feed into and refine the development of the design of the next set:

- 1 Observation
- 2 Individual Interviews
- 3 Surveys and levels of depression questionnaires (face to face)
- 4 Focus group
- 5 Content and /discourse analysis of existing case note documentation